THE NAVARRE ADVANTAGE

For centuries, hardwood floors were finished with a variety of natural oils or wax to protect and nourish the floors to withstand decades of use. With the evolution of modern polyurethane and acrylic hard finishes, hardwood floors finished with natural oils declined in popularity.

Today, natural oiled floors are being embraced by those drawn to the enhanced "naturalness" of natural oiled floors such as Navarre.

Polyurethane and acrylic hard finishes form what can aptly be described as a plastic film on the surface of the floor, providing protection, yet sacrificing the natural and inherent beauty of the wood floor. To the contrary, a natural oil finish actually protects the floor by integrating the oil into the wood itself, in essence becoming one with the wood, providing protection for the wood without sacrificing the wood's natural beauty, but rather enhancing it.

DISPELLING THE MAINTENANCE MYTH

Homeowners often have the misperception that natural oiled floors are more maintenance intensive than polyurethane/acrylic floors when in fact the maintenance schedules for each are similar. Typically, whenever a floor with a synthetic finish would need a screen and recoat, the natural oiled floor would need a maintenance coat of oil. But that's where the similarity ends. And this is where one of the great advantages of a Navarre oiled floor begins.

THE BIG ADVANTAGE: EASY CARE

Consider this...a high traffic area in your home is showing significant wear to the finish and needs to be refinished to regain its original luster. If your floor has a hard finish of polyurethane, acrylic, or aluminum-oxide, the entire floor must be refinished, resulting in downtime, expense, and a general hassle. If, instead, your floor is a natural oil finished Navarre floor, the worn area can be spot repaired by lightly sanding the affected area and applying a new coat of maintenance oil. Minimal downtime. Minimal expense. Minimal hassle.

And the best part is, the older a NAVARRE floor gets and the more it is used, the better it looks. Imagine that, a hardwood floor that actually looks better the longer it's down. Over time the NAVARRE floor acquires a rich and saturated patina that only this type of floor can provide.

ENVIRONMENTALLY RESPONSIBLE, FSC PURE CERTIFIED

Navarre Timeless Wood Floors are certified FSC Pure by the Forest Stewardship Council. A non-profit organization, FSC sets standards for forestry that are environmentally and socially responsible. FSC is the recognized authority for wood certification by the U.S. Green Building Council. Navarre's FSC Pure designation includes the entirety of the hardwood plank, not just the top wear layer.

BETTER INDOOR AIR QUALITY

Navarre Timeless Wood Floors have very low emissions, or odors, with no added urea formaldehyde, providing better indoor air quality for your home than comparable floors. Navarre floors meet the strict requirements for emissions as set by CARB (California Air Resources Board), the leading government agency regulating indoor air quality.

THICK SOLID OAK WEAR LAYER

Navarre styles in the Basque and Haute collections are endowed with a 6 mm solid oak wear layer, that's nearly ¼", giving these floors one of the thickest wear layer available on an engineered hardwood floor. Even the 4 mm wear layer on the floors in the Landes and Pamplona collections are much more substantial than standard engineered wear layers which can be as thin as .6 mm!
